04/15/17	Stevens, Terri Lewis	Please provide to me a copy of the plot plan submitted for this permitted project depicting the required side yard setback for an A1A zoned lot. Most particularly, please provide verification that if the structure intended to be built exceeds 20'-0" a.f.g. that the required addition one foot setback per foot of height above 20'-0" has been met. Finally, please provide a copy of the approved fill plan and elevation survey performed and sealed by a licensed LA engineer as there is no apparent indication on site that the fill brought in to create his building pad was offset elsewhere on his lot, nor that a survey to establish the actual property line was performed (no visual indication of survey stakes at the property line). The additional fill, if not offset, and the distance to the property line would create additional burden on my neighboring lot, which would also violate established Parish ordinances passed to prohibit this, if his property was not balanced to address the excess red clay fill he added. What I am hoping for is that prior to my neighbor pouring his slab for this garage project, the proper Parish setback-to-height ratio has been met. If it hasn't, it would be much easier and cheaper for him to make adjustments to his formwork now versus tearing it up later on. If this issue is more appropriately handled via code enforcement, please forward to the appropriate and responsible Parish official to address these questions.	Records Reproduced	32

10/11/17	Stevens, Terri Lewis	Per the clear instruction of Judge Fendlason on 09-14-17 Try 36:29-32 and 36:1-4, please provide within 3 days, all files, studies, correspondence, meeting notes, engineering notes and calculations as well as servitude acquisition documentation, surveys and drawings related to ANY modification to the existing drainage of Dove Park Subdivision and Dove Park Road between Double JJ to the north and Sharp Road to the south ("the study"), Buras Ranch to the east and Holy Trinity Drive to the west. It has been relayed to me in writing and documentation that a new drainage path was created from the area near Sparrow Street off Swallow street westward to Holy Trinity drive. This path runs approximately east to west to the south of, or including the property spanning between the Durtsche property at 520 Dove Park Road (and including lots along Swallow Street), and the all Dove Park Road fronting properties toward Holy Trinity Drive. This request likely includes land owned by the Archdiocese of New Orleans bda St. Anthony's Retirement Community. This new drainage path and it's discharge are easily viewed when rain falls. Improvement documents, drawings, calculation and permits related to the retention Pond, located south of Judge Tanner Road adjacent to Westwood subdivision are also included in this request as this pond has been improved significantly in the past three years. Finally, the results of the study conducted by Parish staff and outside engineers openly discussed with Rykert Toledano in phone, in person and in text messages, including all discussions of corrective action regarding stormwater and ditch flow from Dove Park Subdivision, including all documented or verbally discussed options for drainage modification or correction discussed by staff, and/or outside engineering consultants is requested. Any modified CEA is also expected to be included in this request as well. In the plainest language possible, everything that the parish possesses in regard to the drainage in or around Dove Park Road between the geographic areas, from 2014 to present, listed above, is what is being requested. If any part of this request is unclear, please indicate which component requires additional clarification and we will be happy to elaborate farther. As it has been made clear to me that all documents are capable of being scanned, please provide al responsive document in PDF electronic format. In response to this response letter regarding the development department code review and revisions, yes, please conduct the IT search of all employees outlook email accounts and correspondences using any reasonable and responsive search terms which might apply to the code revisions undertaken. 10/30/17	Koerner, Louis	Regarding Misita v. STPG, et al., 22nd JDC 2013-14638C, produce concerning plaintiffs' contention and its accuracy that, "The USDA report continues at page 2 in accurately describing the 'drainage canal.' The canal starts at the southeast corner of the Misita property and proceeds north approximately 1600 feet to Stewart Road where it turns due east, skirts the northern side of Lake Ramsey then proceeds south along the eastern side of Lake Ramsey (see the yellow line in Attachment 2) until it joins back to Horse Branch. At the Northeast corner of Mr. Misita's property there is a flap gate (control structure) that prevents the water from Horse Branch from flowing south and flooding Mr. Misita and an adjoining landowner to the south (see Attachment 3 and Attachment 4). It appears with the current design Mr. Misita and the landowner to the south properties are flooded until the water in Horse Branch drops to a level that will allow the flap gate to open and release the water from their property.	Exemption, Exclusion or Limitation; Records Produced for Inspection; Records Reproduced (2,831 Pages)
10/30/17	Koerner, Louis	Regarding Misita v. STPG, et al., 22nd JDC 2013-14638C, produce concerning plaintiffs' contention and its accuracy that, "The USDA report further continues at page 2 by recommending potential solutions. One potential solution is the installation of a flood protection levee across the south and east sides of Mr. Misita's farm along with a pump to remove the water from inside the protected area. Mr. Misita found this solution to be unsatisfactory because it would reduce the farmable acreage of his farm. There is also a potential to create a wetlands violation because of filling in a wetland. Another potential solution is to construct a canal heading south; but, there is a major problem with this solution as it would put the new canal crossing Nature Conservancy land and they would likely not grant permission to cross their land with a man made canal."	Exemption, Exclusion or Limitation; Records Produced for Inspection; Records Reproduced (2,831 Pages)
